Forrest leaves South Bay police force

SOUTH BAY - Citing a recent reduction in his salary as the primary reason, Charles Forrest resigned as Chief of the South Bay Police Department Wednesday, May 4, less than a year after taking over the department.

Roy Humston will serve as interim chief.

Forrest is leaving South Bay's police department to accept a position with a private construction materials firm.

The South Bay city commission recently reduced his salary by about $3,000 annually after appointing a fire chief. Part of Forrest's salary came from the fire department budget because he was public safety director. When the fire chief was appointed, Forrest was stripped of his public safety director title and his salary was reduced.

"There's just no way I can make it on what they're paying me," said Forrest. "I had a hard enough time on what they were giving me."

He will be moving to Hollywood, where he has been living part-time for the past year, he said. He has had a dual residency in the past year because his wife has less than a year to go before retiring from a department store.

Forrest took over the department last spring after a mass resignation left the city with virtually no law enforcement personnel.

He said he thinks one of his biggest contributions to the department has been the dropping of an "isolationist policy" the force had previously operated under.

He said the department now cooperates with other local law enforcement agencies in solving crimes. "Crime has no boundaries," said Forrest.

This year, the department has started to re-enter cases lying dormant since 1981 and 1982.

The department's percentage of solved or resolved cases has risen under his year, and this year, South Bay experienced one of the sharpest decreases in crime in Palm Beach County.

Forrest credits the department's recent success to the hiring of "quality officers" and efficient administration. Forrest recently discussed plans for community service projects that he won't be able to see completed with his move.

"That's my number one regret," he commented. "That I won't be able to finish some of the community service projects. That's one of the most important things, other than fighting crime."

Forrest has been in law enforcement since 1960.

"For the first time in 23 years, I won't be carrying a badge," Forrest said.

Humston is a 22 year veteran in law enforcement and is a former federal investigator.

"Roy Humston does have the credentials to handle the job," said Forrest. "I'm leaving the city in fine hands."

McKinstry wins, group 2 run-off next Tuesday

Cummings, Rashley win spots on May 10 ballot

McKinstry

Rashley

Cummings

PAHOKEE - W.E. "Billy" McKinstry handily won re-election to the Pahokee City Council earlier this week while two of the three candidates in the group two race face a run-off election next Tuesday, May 10.

Wyonia Cummings, a veteran to the Pahokee council, and George Walter

"I'm just proud I won and I don't plan on doing anything differently than what I have done," said McKinstry.

Rashley, Jr., who is in his second race for a council race, will face each other in the run-off. Polls will open for the race next Tuesday morning at 7 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m.

McKinstry pulled down 420 of the 703 votes cast in the group one race, for 59.7 percent.

Glen Carrick, his opponent, won 283 votes. The outspoken McKinstry was the only candidate who openly supported the recent council decision to increase council members' salaries by 100 percent to $4,800 annually.

"I'm just proud I won and I don't plan on doing anything differently than what I have done," said McKinstry after the votes were tallied and the results announced. "Someone asked me if I thought I'd win. Well, if I didn't think I could win, I wouldn't have run in the first place. I'm glad it was by a better margin than it was the last time. This is probably the best margin I've had, except for in 1960. I think my margin was bigger then. But that was so long ago."

Two years ago, McKinstry won re-election by three votes, edging out Robert Welty.

In the group two race, Wyonia Cummings picked up 38.7 percent of the 721 votes cast, or 279 votes, to lead the three-way race.

Two votes proved the difference between Rashley and Ramon Horta, Jr. Rashley picked up 222 votes, or 30.8 percent, and Horta polled 220 or 30.5 percent.

"I'll try again next year," said Horta after a recount showed the same results. "After that, I don't know. I don't think so after three times."

This was Horta's second race. Last year, he was thrown into a run-off with Ronnie Graydon in a council race. Graydon won that race.

Cummings and Rashley won spots on the Tuesday ballot. The polls open at 7 a.m.

Rashley, the son of former council president George Rashley, Sr., lost a bid for his father's seat last year. Cummings, who opposed current council president Jon Mock, also lost her bid for a seat last year.

They will face off in Tuesday's run-off. They are vying for the seat currently held by George Tillis who decided not run for re-election.

POLL WORKERS at Pahokee's municipal election Tuesday evening check the ballots after the polls closed. They had to make sure the number of ballots cast tallied with the number who voted.

Board may be softening its stand on creation of a Belle Glade CRB

BELLE GLADE - The Palm Beach County Community Relations Board may be softening in its insistence that Belle Glade appoint a local board, according to Remar M. Harvin, director of planning and community development with the city.

"Until recently, the county's Community Relations Board has been insistent that the city appoint a local community relation board," stated Harvin. "But at the city's last monthly meeting of the Citizen's Planning and Advisory Committee, Leon Herbert, Jr., who heads Palm Beach County Relations Board's Cities / Liason Committee, was in attendance and went away with a whole new outlook on the need for this request."

"The committee I met with are without question working for the betterment of the community and, as stated by their administrator, Remar Harvin, represent a broad economic make-up of the people in their city. There appears no reason to have a separate Community Relations type of board nor would it seem possible to assemble another group of people that could do what this board does in this area," stated Herbert in his report on his meeting with the CPAC April 7. "After meeting with this committee for in excess of two hours, it is recommended that any future meeting of our board be with them to exchange thoughts and ideas."

Herbert also told the Community Relations Board that it must develop a working relationship with the people in the Glades if it wants to understand the area.

"To put matters in perspective, one must consider the distance between Belle Glade and the eastern part of Palm Beach County," stated Herbert. "The distance is not only in miles, but over the years the make-up of the population and problems faced by each area are quite different."

"Before any understanding of what goes on in the Glades by someone in the east can make any suggestions or discuss things intelligently, they must develop a rapport with the people that live there," he continued. "There is a strong community pride in Belle Glade and the committee I met thoroughly understands its own community. While our board wishes to publicize our work in a community by meeting there, making observations, recommendations and trying to call attention to a blossoming problem, I do not believe we are always understood by that town."

and George Tillis. The facility is being built by Hatton Properties partially with funds raised through the floating of development bonds.

Harbor improvements may be feasible says corps

PAHOKEE — Improvements to the Pahokee Harbor may be "economically feasible," according to a letter the United States Army Corps of Engineers sent Pahokee Mayor Duncan Padgett.

Corps officials apparently expect to complete a report on a recent study of possible navigation improvements at the facility in the near future.

"The report on the study is nearing completion, and it appears that some navigation improvements by the Corps of Engineers could be economically feasible," according to the letter signed by A.J. Salem, chief of the corps' planning division.

League planning Brazil trip

Local residents interested in touring sugar and alcohol producing areas of Brazil this summer in a trip sponsored by the Florida Sugar Cane League are invited to contact Dalton Yancey, general manager, at 983-9151.

The 6-19 July tour costs $2,265, which includes transportation and lodging.

The Brazilian Society of Sugar and Alcohol Producers is hosting the trip, Yancey said.

The itinerary begins in Rio de Janeiro, moves on to Sao Paulo — the largest sugar producing area, where visitors will also look at citrus production.

From Sao Paulo the tour moves to the port city of Recife, where Brazil exports most of its sugar.

Next stop on the tour is the capital city of Brasilia, where the group will receive briefings from the American Embassy staff and the Foreign Agricultural Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The trip also includes a cruise to the headwaters of the Amazon to the town of Manaus.

The letter stated that channel dredging and a jetty on the north side of the entrance to the harbor were possible. The jetty would prevent the newly dredged channel from washing closed, Padgett said.

Salem stated that the corps couldn't provide a grant for breakwater modifications, such as raising the breakwater.

Padgett had inquired about the possibility of raising the breakwater instead of dredging the channel, saying that plans to keep the lake level no lower than 15 feet would make it unnecessary to deepen the channel.

"As you point out, at high lake levels the channel dredging would not seem a priority item," Salem stated in his April 27 letter to Padgett. "But the reverse would be true at low lake levels. We understand your concerns regarding the height and condition of the breakwater, but hope you understand our position."

Padgett has often addressed the city council about the condition of the breakwater.

"It's in bad shape. If something's not done and the lake rises, and we get a storm or a northwestern (wind), it could be washed away. You won't be able to use it," Padgett said.

He added that the city has been repairing the surface of the breakwater with asphalt.

Conference scheduled

BELLE GLADE — A second advocacy conference sponsored by the West Palm Beach-Boca Raton Minority Business Development

Center will be at the Lake Shore Civic Center, May 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The conference is open to the public.

Banquet scheduled

BELLE GLADE — Members of the Belle Glade Alliance Church will be having a Mother-Daughter banquet Saturday, May 7, 6 p.m. at the church, 425 E Canal St. North. Church members will be having a chicken barbeque and reservations should be made in advance. Tickets are $3 for adults and $2.50 for children 12 and under. The Suncoast Baptist Church in North Ft. Myers will be entertaining at 7:30 p.m. with their puppet ministry. The puppet show is open to all family members.

Sacrifice needed for clean streets

The Belle Glade City Commission is considering adopting a street sweeping policy for the bright southwest section of the city.

When the city adopted similar policies for the area in the past, problems arose when residents and business owners protested because of the lack of parking spaces on nights scheduled for sweeping.

The city commission has ordered the administration to create a policy and schedule that takes into account, as best as possible, all the problems experienced in the past.

We don't think much more can be expected. The commissioners are aware of the parking problems experienced by residents and business patrons on the nights a street is scheduled for sweeping.

But they are also aware that residents in the area want to see the area improved.

They are trying to do something about the conditions in the southwest section through community development projects and in actions such as adopting a street sweeping policy or building trash collection stations.

Residents and business owners should realize that improving the conditions in the area is a two-way street.

As the saying goes, there is no free lunch. Any effort to improve the conditions in the area will involve sacrifice on the part of all involved parties.

The city will have to foot the bill, but the citizens should realize that parking may be disrupted in some hours of some days.

If the residents and business proprietors aren't willing to make a few sacrifices to help improve the area they live and work in, then they shouldn't complain about conditions.

Chief's resignation should open eyes

Former South Bay Police Chief Charles Forrest will be missed. In his year as chief of the South Bay department, he helped bring professional respect to a department that was almost nonexistent.

His year as South Bay's police chief and public safety director saw the city experience one of the sharpest decreases in crime the county.

The South Bay City Commissioners should open their eyes and learn a lesson from his departure.

Apparently, the city is losing a highly competent employee at a crucial position because of a recent pay cut brought on by the promotion of another individual.

The commission has been mired recently in controversy surrounding the hiring of Blacks in city hall and employees' lunch hours. Instead of trying to solve matters best handled by the city administration, we think the commission should re-examine its policies concerning the paying of key personnel.

South Bay has apparently had problems with its police department in the past. That Forrest could turn that situation around significantly in less than a year is a credit to his ability.

The city commission may feel it cannot afford to pay Forrest what he would need to stay on as chief. We think they can afford his loss even less.

We urge the city commission to raise the wage scale for its police chief and to seek out and hire another competent individual for the position.

The small worries can be the most worrisome

Last week I wrote something about concentrating worry on little things because the big things will take care of themselves.

I not so sure this week.

Maybe it is best not to worry about the little things either.

For instance one of my prime concerns were my eyeballs. They were bright red most of the week and as one person said, it was difficult to tell where the brown stopped and the white started.

If you thought I looked unusually shifty-eyed you were probably right. I was trying to avoid looking anyone in the eye.

I didn't want anyone thinking, aha! Jim Jones has been on a binge! Or, boy, things must be really bad at the job. Or, wonder how things are between him and the little lady these days. Or worse yet, just as I suspected, he's a doper.

Well none of those apply. The actual problem is vanity. Vanity takes the form of two little round pieces of wear permeable plastic known as contact lenses.

JIM JONES

BOILER PLATE

You probably recall that the body has a tendency to reject foreign bodies, like transplanted hearts, lungs, and livers. Apparently the same is true for little pieces of transparent plastic made to fit stop the cornea.

Lately I have been switching back and forth so frequently between contact lenses and glasses that everyone is a bit confused.

Some people tell me I look strange without my glasses, while I get the opposite viewpoint from a like number of others. Stan Martin told me I looked distinguished with my little square rims, while Margarita Walker told me I looked terrible.

By the time you read this, incidentally, Margarita will have probably have had that baby. Rumor has it that she is going for the record on longest gestation period for a human.

She could strike a compromise and have it on Mother's Day.

It's too bad there isn't a 3A school in the neighborhood to give Glades Central the kind of entertainment that Clewiston and Pahokee give each other.

The Raiders don't know what they are missing. Clewiston beat Pahokee in every track meet of the season, except the districts, where Pahokee is always strongest.

Both teams are sending a whole flock of athletes (boys and girls) to Showalter Field in Winter Park Saturday for the state championship.

Both teams would like to win a state championship, and they would especially like to beat each other.

Any thing can happen at state and it is hard to say what a team like Monticello will do. Monticello is loaded with talent and is sure to have some impact on the final results.

One thing is certain, however, and it is that the Glades are a hotbed of track and field talent.

For my money, Clewiston's Robert Holmes has the best competitive instincts I have seen this year. He'll find a way to win almost any competition he enters. The amazing thing is that a college has not already signed him to a scholarship.

Even if you take away his track ability, he still quarterbacked the Tigers to a football championship this year.

I think this confirms the inkling that college scouts aren't perfect either.

Appreciating the special state of grandmotherhood

Actually, I think mothers are just grand. In fact, I think everyone who comes into this world should have at least one.

But don't think everyone should be one, necessarily. I've met mothers who wished they'd skipped motherhood and signed up for grandmotherhood instead. There's far less frazzlement and haggardness involved. Neither of which is insurable.

Motherhood reminds me of a 20-year mortgage. Just because you have to keep up the payments

AILSA DEWING

"AND WHAT NOT"

doesn't mean you can't enjoy the experience of owning your own but it's a great relief when either of them reaches maturity.

There's a lot of landscaping involved too. With boys especially. Many a mother has looked at her teenage son going out on his first date and wondered at the change in him. The change is that it's the first time she's seen him without mud, grease, or peanut butter on his face since the day after he was born.

Some mothers think girls are easier to raise than boys. In one way they are. At least you always know where a girl is — all you have to do is reel in the telephone cord she's attached to

I suppose when my own children read this they'll send me some coal in a stocking for a Mother's Day present. So? Wait 'til the two young mothers in the family get my cards: "Wishing you a complete recovery and good health always."

Motherhood is fine but you don't get nearly as much fun out of it as grandmotherhood. You've made all the payments, as it were. On the other hand, I wouldn't have wanted to get here without being there first. I wouldn't know what I'd missed.

Lee Driggers joins Hammell Newspapers as press foreman

Publisher Stan Martin announced this week that Lee Driggers has been named press foreman for Hammell Newspapers of Florida, Inc., which prints The Clewiston News, the Herald-Observer, and the Glades County Democrat in its Clewiston printing plant.

Also printed in Clewiston is the Caloosa Belle, which serves western Hendry County from LaBelle.

"It is a pleasure to introduce Lee," Martin said. "From the day of his arrival here in early March, there has been a dramatic improvement in the printing quality of all of our publications."

"We have had many comments from our readers about the crispness and clarity of our printing. Lee deserves the lion's share of the credit for this. He is a true professional and a perfectionist," Martin said.

Rounding out the press crew are Dave Garton and Tim Barber.

Driggers, 42, is a native of Vero Beach and comes to the Glades from Jacksonville, where he was affiliated with Waretcraft Press.

He attended Vero Beach High School and served in the U.S. Navy for three years. He has been in the printing business since 1961, when he was discharged from the Navy.

"I like the Glades and the speed of the living here compared to the big city. It's about the same size as Vero Beach when I was growing up," Driggers says.

Driggers and his wife, Lois, are the parents of two children, Lisa, 16, and Kevin, 11.

Local girl wins big at National Academic games

Janet Clayton

BELLE GLADE -- Janet Clayton, the 17-year-old daughter of Joe and Mert Clayton of Belle Glade, won five first place awards in the National Academic Games Competition in Atlanta, Georgia last week.

Janet is a junior at Glades Day School and got to the national competition by claiming top awards in all three divisions at the county level games in West Palm Beach.

Over 700 students from all over the United States competed. Janet received first place in the Mr. President, Ameri-Euro Card (history and current events), Propaganda and Strange Bedfellows (quotes and advertising slogans), Overall Language Arts, and Overall Social Studies categories.

She was also a member of the senior team from Glades Day School who placed first in two team divisions.

Teach your trusty phone some new tricks.

Southern Bell offers you four ways to make your telephone more convenient than ever. They're called Custom Calling Services. And once you learn their magic, you'll probably wonder how your phone ever performed without them. Custom Calling does not require any additional equipment. And all installation work is done at Southern Bell.

The services are available with Touch-Tone® or rotary dial phones.

Call Waiting.

At one time or another, everyone has missed an important phone call because his or her line was busy. But with Call Waiting, you can answer the second call while you're still on the phone. A "beep" tells you that someone is trying to reach you. You can hold the first call and answer the second by depressing the switchhook. Or you can switch back and forth between the calls.

Call Forwarding.

With Call Forwarding, you'll never again have to stay home to wait for a call. All your incoming calls can be forwarded to a number where you can be reached. All you do is dial a simple code and then the number of the other telephone. When you return home, dial a short code to restore your telephone to normal.

3-Way Calling.

How many times have you wished you could talk to two friends at the same time? With 3-Way Calling, you can. Just a flick of the switchhook lets you dial the other person's number and add him to the conversation. And 3-Way Calling is perfect in business situations, too.

Speed Calling.

Save time dialing your close friends and other frequently called numbers because you only dial a few digits and your telephone remembers the others. It's considerably faster and it'll save you from dialing wrong numbers, too.

To determine if Custom Calling Services are available in your area, please contact your Southern Bell Business Office.

Scout-O-Rama to be held at West Tech

BELLE GLADE -- The annual Scout-O-Rama of the Boy Scouts in the Gulf Stream Council will be at West Technical Institute, May 14 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Gulf Stream Council President Chuck Potter, Belle Glade Mayor Tom Altman and

Pahokee Mayor Duncan Padgett will be speakers for the opening ceremony.

Boy Scouts of America District Executive Rob Carver said there are many scheduled events planned for the local Scout-O-Rama.

"We plan to have a police dog demonstration, a dunk tank, pine wood derby races and Tippy the Clown will perform," Carver said. He said the event will also be a semi-open house for West Tech.

There will be a Florida Power and Light awards ceremony for conservation that morning. The Scout-O-Rama will also feature a wilderness survival camp and a mock Indian campsite, according to Carver.

Food will be on sale by Kiwanis Club members. Tickets are $1 and pay for all the activities.

Owens-Combass exchange vows

Mary Katherine Owens of Clewiston and Terry Lee Combass of Belle Glade were married in a double-ring ceremony at St. Margaret's Catholic Church on March 18. Father Roger Holoubek, uncle of the bride, officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Owens of Clewiston. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Combass of Belle Glade.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a full-length satin gown with train. The fitted bodice was overlaid with lace and the skirt was overlaid with four tiers of lace. The long sleeves were also of lace. The gown had a scoop neckline and a standup collar.

The matching headpiece was a beaded cap covered with lace, with lace veil attached. The bride also wore a string of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, yellow roses, pink carnations and fern.

The maid of honor was Lisa Owens. She wore a full-length, off-the-shoulder gown of yellow satin. The skirt was overlaid with sheer material. The gown had a ruffled neckline and a wide, attached sash. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of silk yellow and white roses. The bridesmaid was Holly Benefield. She wore a full-length pink gown identical in design to the maid of honor's. She carried a bouquet of silk pink and white roses.

The flowergirls were Amanda Mosley and Veronica Randolph, nieces of the groom. They wore identical full-length, pale blue satin gowns with short, three-tiered, ruffled sleeves. They each wore a small crown of babies' breath flowers.

The groom wore a grey tuxedo with a white ruffled shirt; he wore a white rose in his lapel.

The best man was Barry Johnson of Belle Glade.

The groomsmen were Jeff Jones of Belle Glade. He wore a grey tuxedo with a pink ruffled shirt; he wore a pink carnation in his lapel.

The church altar was decorated with two spiral candelabras with pink candles, and twin bouquets of daisies, carnations and babies' breath. Pink bows decorated the pews.

The organist was Ed Maszarski and the soloist was Cindy Grace.

Songs played before the ceremony were "Endless Love" and "You and I."

The wedding march was "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell. Ms. Cindy Grace sang "With This Ring (The Wedding Song)." The final organ selection was "Prelude" by Richard Rodgers.

The mother of the bride wore a street-length, mauve crepe dress with long sleeves and a wide waist band. She wore a corsage of white, silk roses with a white satin bow.

The mother of the groom wore a street-length blue dress of sheer material with short sleeves and a jabot at the neck. She wore a corsage of white, silk roses with a white satin bow.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at John Boy Auditorium. The tables were decorated with two bouquets and a peace lily and a corn plant were also used as decoration. The tablecloths were white lace with yellow ribbons.

The three-tiered wedding cake was set on four pedestals. A fountain and white daisies and fern were placed beneath the cake, which was decorated with yellow, pink and blue flowers, doves, angels and bells. A grande and groom centerpiece adorned the top of the cake.

Assisting or serving were Mrs. Sue Holoubek, Ms. Joni Holoubek, and Mrs. Gladys Owens.

Ms. Debbie Normand was in charge of the bride's book.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Combass

Music at the reception was provided by the Agony Brothers.

The bride is a 1980 graduate of Clewiston High School. She is employed at South Bay Growers. The groom is also employed at South Bay Growers.

The wedding trip has been delayed until the summer.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. Thomas B. Owens of Lake Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Holoubek of Ft. Lauderdale; Miss Joni Holoubek of Winter Park; Mr. and Mrs.

Alan Cumpston, Mr. Richard Stanton, Miss Debbie Valentine, Mr. William V. Combass, Miss Karen Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beck, Mr. Kenneth Combass, Mr. Keith Combass, Ms. Lorene Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Hilyer, Mr. Basil Markham, Mr. Brian Carter and Miss Faye Woods, all of Belle Glade; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Mosley of Pahokee, Ms. Elsie Hough and Mr. A. J. Thielen of Bradenton.

Cocaine arrest made at local motel

BELLE GLADE - An off-duty policeman working security at the local Holiday Inn arrested a local man for possession of cocaine early this week.

According to Detective Jack R. Fulenwider, Officer William P. Kenny was working the security detail at the motel when he saw a plastic bag containing a white powder fall out of the pocket of a customer. Kenny retrieved the bag and took the suspect, John Milton Jones, to the police station.

Testing proved the substance to be cocaine. Jones, 40, of 1708 Palm Street in Belle Glade, was charged with possession of cocaine.

Gove School short $500 for trip to Disney World

BELLE GLADE - In a last minute effort to raise funds for the older class in the Gove Exceptional Child Education Center to make an end-of-the-year graduation trip, students are planning a rummage sale.

The sale is scheduled for this Saturday, May 7 on the south side of the Polar Bear parking lot on Southwest Fourth Street in Belle Glade from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This year, the class plans to make a trip to Disney World. According to sponsor Doris Davis, the group has been raising funds by selling popcorn, but it's still $500 short of their goal.

Anyone wishing to make rummage donations can call Gove Elementary, ECE Center, 996-4987 and ask for Davis.

Suspect faces more charges

BELLE GLADE - A man arrested last week for burglarizing the 200 NW Avenue E residence of Ruth Wedgworth has been implicated in two other burglaries in the same area.

Cifford Portier, Jr., 19, of 314 SW Seventh Street, in Belle Glade, is facing three counts of burglary and one count of giving false information to police.

Later that day, the identification section of the Belle Glade Police Department matched his fingerprints with those found at two other burglaries in the city.

According to Detective Normand Hevey, Portier was charged with burglarizing the 217 NW Avenue D residence of T.E. Burgess.

The Burgess home, which wasn't occupied at the time, was entered through an east bedroom window. Burgess apparently discovered the burglary at about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 26.

Portier was also charged with the November 30 burglary of the Cecil Conley residence at 1041 SE Second Street, according to a report by Detective Albert Dowdell.

He allegedly entered the home through a south-east bedroom window and stole about $600 worth of cash, jewelry and camera equipment.

At press time, Portier was in custody in Palm Beach County Jail under $9,000 bond.

Three more Belle Glade residents arrested for forgery and mail theft

BELLE GLADE - One day after breaking a two year investigation with two arrests, the Belle Glade Police Department and the United States Postal Inspection Service arrested three more Belle Glade residents as a result of the same investigation.

Earnestine Porter, 25, of 693 SW Ninth Street in Belle Glade, surrendered to Detective Richard A. Quigley of the Fort Lauderdale branch of the Inspection Service the morning of April 27.

She was charged for possession of stolen mail. Diane Davis, who was indicted by a federal grand jury for possession of stolen mail, was apprehended in Belle Glade later that morning by Sergeant Leroy Carrigan. Davis, a resident of 740 Joe Lewis Avenue in Pahokee, was apprehended on the street at the intersection of Southwest Sixth Street and Southwest Avenue B.

Jonas Sageset, 20, of 425 SW Avenue D number 305, was also arrested by Belle Glade Police that day for state charges of uttering a forged instrument and grand theft.

According to Fulenwider, the charges against Sageset stem from the theft of a state welfare check and its alleged cashing at a local business.

The three arrested last Wednesday bring to five the total number arrested in the investigation.

Apparently, the charges stem from the apparent theft of welfare and government checks and the cashing of those checks. Fulenwider said the investigation is still active and more arrests are pending.

"Local merchants shouldn't accept any kind of identification other than an identification issued by law enforcement agency or a state of Florida driver's license or identification card from people negotiating checks of any kind," said Fulenwider.

New criminal justice complex dedicated

By BRENDA BUNTING
BELLE GLADE -- Dedication ceremonies for the new Glades Criminal Justice Complex were conducted Wednesday, April 27.

The 94 bed facility was a "culmination of a dream held by many," according to Palm Beach County Commissioner Bill J. Bailey, one of the guest speakers for the event.

Bailey said the groundbreaking for the facility was April 6, 1981. He said he was proud to have played a role in the process of getting the new jail built at the Glades complex.

The facility was built with a $27 million tax bond and the ribbon cutting took place a little over two years after the groundbreaking.

Sheriff Richard Wille said the county and state have "lived under federal court order for two years for overcrowding in Palm Beach County and all of the state of Florida."

He was quick to point out though that the county commission had begun the process of building new jails before U.S. District Judge Alice Hastings issued a court order requiring more facilities.

Judge Lewis Kapner, chief judge of the 15th Judicial Circuit Court, told the crowd of approximately 250 people, "You can't get tougher with criminals without the proper jails to put the criminals in."

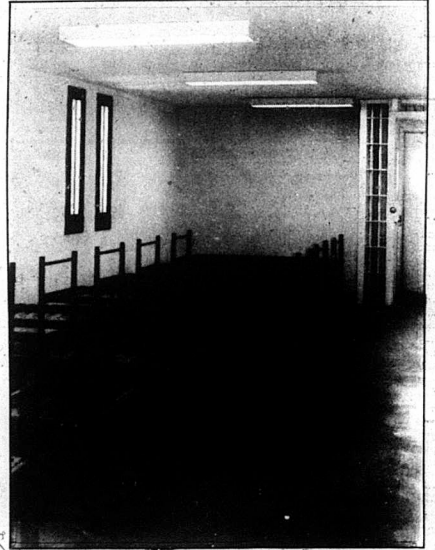

The statement was prompted because he said he had been told by many people that the county didn't need new jails; law enforcement officers need to get tougher on criminals.

The new facility will allow the county to end the use of the Belle Glade City Jail as a County jail annex. The City of Belle Glade has allowed the county to lease the city jail since 1976.

The new jail will provide centralized offices for the Sheriff's law enforcement operations in the western part of Palm Beach County and provide the judiciary with additional courtroom space.

PAHOKEE Mayor and Mrs. Duncan Padgett look over the new 94-bed facility.

VISITORS look over one of the two new court rooms.

A TWO-WAY telephone system has been installed for prisoners to communicate with their visitors.

Del Campo heads cancer campaign

Rita Del Campo is heading the Glades area campaign for the League Against Cancer and is seeking local volunteers to work in the league's May 8 telethon.

The purpose of the telethon, which will air over WFTV Channel 23 from 10:30 a.m. to midnight, is to raise funds for the construction of a hospital in Miami for the treatment of cancer patients, according to Del Campo.

"While the construction of our own hospital is being contemplated, due to the ever-increasing number of destitute cancer patients this year, we must surpass all previous telethon fund-raising," said Del Campo. "This will enable us to keep on defraying the costs of hospitalization, surgery and treatment of the children and adults of innumerable nationalities, races and creeds who are afflicted with cancer and the lack of economic resources to face their illness."

The league currently operates a clinic in Miami that's staffed by more than 40 physicians who offer free services Monday through Friday from 2 to 6 p.m. Those who want to work on the telethon in Belle Glade should contact Del Campo at 996-3381.

EAST LAKE Middle School has a newly formed Junior Honor Society. Among those inducted April 18 were (left) Ibis Campos, Samantha Hunicutt, Latashe Phillips, Chequita Cato, Marsha Banks, and Anita Wallace. Not shown are new members David Hunicutt and Lasheena Smith and faculty advisor Jeannette Burroughs.

Joyner plans plant clinic

A plant clinic will be conducted by Gene Joyner, Urban Horticulturist, Palm Beach County Cooperative Extension Service, at the Glades agricultural office, 2979 North 441, Belle Glade, Friday, May 6, from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

This plant clinic is set up to allow the public to bring in any problems they are having with trees, shrubbery, or lawns. An agent will be available to look at the samples and diagnose the problem.

Bulletins on various subjects are also available at the agricultural Extension office and those attending the plant clinic may pick up bulletins of interest to them.

Persons who are unable to come to the agricultural office during the clinic hour may call in plant problems to 996-1655. Gene Joyner will try to answer the questions over the phone.

This free clinic is not a formal class or lecture and is conducted on a very informal basis. Anyone having plant problems may attend.

All meetings are open to anyone regardless of race, color, sex, or national origin.

Sorority visits

The Glades Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority will take forty(40) junior and senior young ladies to Florida A & M University, Tallahassee. The trip is scheduled for Wednesday, April 27-29.

This will be the fourth trip the sorority has sponsored for young ladies planning to attend college upon graduation from high school. The schedule of activities planned during the visit at the university will include workshops to provide information that relates to the availability of financial aid and a first-hand experience to college life. Other activities are tours of the universities and the State's capital. Each year the trip has been made available at no cost to the participants. The sorority was very fortunate this year in securing a donation of $500 from Florida A & M University Alumni Association to help with the expenses of this project.

Red and white ball

The Glades Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta, Inc. is once again sponsoring its annual Red & White Ball, Saturday, May 14 at 9 p.m., at the Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center.

To preserve you from decay, heal your wounds, add a little flavor to life and make you thirsty ... A PINCH OF SALT Rev. Robert W. Carlson

The American family is in trouble. You probably know that already. In fact, your family has been hurt, if not wrecked, by the devastating, anti-family forces that are sweeping our country, forces that have no regard for race, religion, political persuasion or economic status. What I am saying is that you are not alone in the battle; you are not the only one who is suffering, but that's really no comfort either.

The answer is to give up the whole idea of family. At least that seems to be the solution some are pushing. Pardon me, but I think that approach to the problem is stupid. Instead of blaming the ills of the family on what you may think are unrealistic, traditional mores, why not check the manufacturers instruction manual to see where you have gone wrong.

A few blocks from the service station my shiny new T-Bird, the one I've always dreamed of, begins to spit, sputter, and then stop. Angrily I call the dealership and demand that they ymb a tow truck to get my new car. I shout at the salesman and vow that I will never own another Ford as long as I live.

Do I sound like a bonehead? You said it! I should have followed the manufacturers instruction manual for my new car instead of doing my own thing.

God is the One who first had the idea for marriage; read Genesis (not the pornographic magazine, the book of the Bible) Chapter 2, verses 18-25. Then spend some time studying Ephesians 5:22-23 and 6:1-4. God's instruction manual, the Bible, may be a little old, but since it comes from the One who originated marriage and the family, it just can't be replaced.

Obituary

THOMAS J. WOODY. Services were held Wednesday, April 27 at 2 p.m. at the Wetherington Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Ray Stedham officiating. Interment was at the Port Mayaca Cemetery. Pallbearers were Thomas Wilson, Carl Crutchfield, Michael Tew, Buddy Watkins, Rickey Hayes and Sam Patterson. Wetherington Funeral Home in Pahokee was in charge of arrangements.

Borrow from them and pay more — one way or another.

You've been looking at new cars, and perhaps you've found the perfect one. Now you have to decide where and how to finance the purchase, and here is where you may encounter confusion. Because, unfortunately for you, there are some very important catches to the rates offered by some automobile dealers.

In most cases, to get their lowest advertised rates, you must pay top dollar for your new car. If you try to bargain, those low rates may suddenly disappear. You may find that you have to make a very large down payment, as much as 1/3 or more. Chances are you'll give up any price rebates you'd counted on, and the term of the loan may be very short — in some cases only 18 to 36 months — resulting in high monthly payments, in spite of a low interest rate.

What seemed at first to be an attractive finance package can turn into a complicated, expensive proposition.

Or borrow from Southeast Bank and save — in more ways than one. First, you'll benefit from our very competitive 11.9% Annual Percentage Rate.

But you'll have some real advantages, as well. As a cash customer, you'll be in a much stronger position to bargain. This alone could save hundreds of dollars.

You can select a longer term for your loan from Southeast, enabling you to tailor your monthly payments to suit your budget. And your down payment may be smaller than that required by other financing plans.

Credit where credit is due, from Southeast Bank and select new car dealers.

Southeast new car loans are available at any Southeast Banking Center and through dealers throughout Florida who have made special arrangements to offer their customers the convenience and savings of Southeast Bank financing.

We have financing available for almost any purpose, from a new car to a new home, and it just makes sense to finance your major purchases with us. Whatever your requirements, see your Southeast banker. You'll get competitive rates, terms to suit your needs, and the confidence of dealing with the leader in Florida banking.

Southeast Bank You can count on us.
